

THE BOARD OF PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSIONERS HELD SITTINGS AT MACLEOD

CYCLONE HITS SOUTH KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 17.—Travelling at eighty miles an hour, a terrific windstorm swept over four counties in the south central part of Kentucky late yesterday, severely injuring 12 persons, uprooting trees, demolishing houses and farm buildings and completely destroying telephone communication.

Early today communication with the stricken area had not been restored, so no definite estimate of the extent of the casualties or the amount of the property damage could be made.

Estimates early today, however, placed the toll of injured at more than 25, and the property damage at tens of thousands of dollars. While Cammer, a town of about 300 population, was reported completely wiped out, these reports could not be confirmed. Three houses and one barn on a farm near Thomas Landing were blown in the Barren River. Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Smith and their four-day-old baby, who lived in one of houses, were blown from it. The baby was carried into an adjoining field, a distance of 100 yards. All escaped uninjured.

NEW FORD ON EXHIBITION

The new Ford touring car (latest model) can now be seen at the Co-operative Garage (Macleod Motor Sales).

To date only one car is available and it is known that several prospective purchasers are waiting for the new model. Manager Adams asks that a little patience be exercised as he expects a car load of these cars in shortly.

Loafing is hard work. Very few people have made a success of it.

RAISE SILVER FOXES

If you could buy a pair of the best quality prolific Government Registered Silver Black Breeding Foxes on easy terms of payment until November 1st, 1927, for $360.00, would you be interested?

Fox Farming pays bigger profits than any other industry we know of—the returns are quick and the profits large. Silver Black Foxes are the greatest mortgage lifters that we know about. They produce yearly returns and are not affected by drought, hail or frost.

AUBREY BRIGHT SETS UP TWO NEW WEIGHT RECORDS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—Manitoba won the western intervarsity track and field meet for the sixth consecutive year Saturday, the final standing showing a wide margin in favor of the brown and gold athletes with a total of 75½ points against 41½ for Alberta and 27 for Saskatchewan.

A muddy and partly snow covered track and miserable weather conditions overhead, made fast time in the track events impossible, but three field marks were by the boards. All the new records were made by out-of-town athletes. Two of the marks established fell to Aubrey W. Bright, the star of the Alberta squad. In the shot put he bettered the old mark by seven inches, while in the hammer throw he surpassed the previous record by no less than eight clear feet, tossing the hammer 108 feet 6 inches. The third record of the day came in the javelin throw, which went to W. Slominski, of Saskatchewan, with 154 feet against a previous mark of 142.

In Running Events

Manitoba owed its victory to marked superiority in the running events. J. A. Ball, in his first year, made a clean sweep of the sprints, to annex the individual honors of the meet with a total of 15 points.

One of the most popular victories of the day went to Alberta, when D. Sproule ran splendidly in the three mile event to beat out E. Starko, of Saskatchewan.

L. Hutchinson, of Saskatchewan, was best in the jumps, finishing with 11 points as a result of a win in the pole vault and second in the broad and high. Fritz Werthenbach, of Alberta was next best collector of points with ten, made undoubtedly a good victory in the 200 yards hurdles, second in the 120 hurdles and third in the 220 dash and broad jump.

SALONIKI IS "FREE ZONE"

SALONIKI, Greece, Oct. 19.—The "free zone" of Saloniki was inaugurated today with much ceremony in the presence of high officials, ecclesiastical and military authorities.

The zone was instituted voluntarily by the Greek government in order to give the Balkan states and especially Bulgaria, access to the Aegean Sea. Under the regulations Greece will allow any country to use the port for the shipment of goods, incoming or outgoing, without restriction as to duties, right of seizure or right of search.

The free zone provides "access" or many Balkan communities to the sea. The action of the Greek government is regarded as an astute political move to counteract agitation by some of the Balkan states against the League of Nations for a revision of territorial grants in the Balkans with a view to providing Aegina ports.

NEW PHONE SERVICE OPENED

EDMONTON, Oct. 21.—Inaugurating a direct telephone service that will link Alberta with many points in Canada and with every state in the American union, Lieutenant Governor Brett, in the office of Hon. V. W. Smith, minister of railways and telephones, today engaged in telephonic conversations with the secretaries of the states of Montana, Colorado and Arizona, and the states of Helena, Denver and Phoenix, exchanging greetings with the people across the line. Premier Greenfield and other government officials were present during the test, as far as these three states were concerned.

Solicitor for the Executors.

Macleod, Alberta.

FIVE EUROPEAN PEACE TREATIES ARE NOW READY FOR SIGNATURE

LOCARNO, Oct. 17.—An official communication explains that the treaties and conventions drawn up by the security conference and initiated yesterday, no varitur (not to be changed), were the following:

The treaty between Germany, Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy, known as the Rhine pact. The arbitration convention between Germany and Belgium, Germany and France, Germany and Poland, Germany and Czechoslovakia. The communiqué continued by saying that M. Briand, the French foreign minister, informed the conference of the conclusion between France, Poland and Czechoslovakia, of agreements "with the object of securing to these countries the benefit of the arbitration treaties mentioned above which will be deposited with the League of Nations in due course."

(Those are agreements guaranteeing France the right to help her eastern allies in case of flagrant aggression against them). The communiqué also stated "the conference examined the results which have been achieved and the consequences which must follow in restoring peace and security to Europe."

Chamberlain in Paris

PARIS, Oct. 19.—Foreign Minister Briand and his British colleague, Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain, were given a warm welcome on their arrival here today from Locarno, Switzerland, where they played a leading part in the successful security conference. A huge crowd greeted them at the station with shouts of "Long live the peace!" Mr. Chamberlain, M. Briand and Premier Painlevé went for luncheon to the British embassy, where it was reported they would discuss the question of evacuating the Cologne bridgehead.

CAPITAL GOSSIP AND PROVINCIAL NEWS

New Sugar Factory Opens

The new sugar factory at Raymond, Alberta, will open for operations on October 23. Arrangements are being made for a ceremony in connection with the opening, to be attended by prominent men from both the States and Alberta. The visitors from across the line will include President Heber Grant of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Co., which established the Raymond factory. It is anticipated that this factory will be but the first of a number eventually to be established in the irrigated districts of south-western Alberta, which will handle between 75,000 and 90,000 tons of beets this year.

Coarse Grain Pool Planned

Plans are now being laid by the officials of the wheat pool in Alberta to start a coarse grain pool if there is sufficient response. Contracts are now being mailed to members to ascertain the extent of the demand for such a pool.

Big Farm Sale

Some 700 acres of the farm of Frank Walker, at Fort Saskatchewan, have recently been sold in a deal involving about $40,000. The land has been purchased by a new settler who intends farming on a large scale.

Wheat Pool Progresses

The campaign for increased membership of the Alberta wheat pool is progressing. Over 600 new members were received in the first ten days of the drive.

Bank Building Addition

Contracts for addition to their building in Edmonton to cost $50,000, have been awarded by the Royal Bank of Canada.

Have Done Well in Alberta

D. H. Wood, of Eagle Hill, near Olds, Alberta, and wife came from Ontario, in 1912, and in 1914 they went into their present farm. Of their progress, Mrs. Wood writes as follows:

"We started with 400 acres—all raw land and downs—buying cattle and sheep; grubbing, clearing and breaking our wooded land; putting up serviceable buildings; moving and renting the place; starting up on horses, cattle and machinery, going to the States several times, etc."

"Now, however, we are stocked up again, and intend staying on the farm. I am confident central Alberta is much better than anything the United States can offer. We have 600 acres of land now (half being cultivated), with good buildings, good water, shelter, flowing springs in pasture, and can raise good grain crops. We are located—half a mile from school, and one mile from the post office and general store."

"We have the best of chocolate loam land, good roads and good neighbors, all of whom have telephones, autos and good outbuildings. "We need American settlers, and I have always done everything I could to encourage their coming here. Through my efforts, quite a number of them have already located in this district, and some are moving here this fall."

A BIRD IN THE HAND

"Well," said the happy bridegroom to the minister at the conclusion of the ceremony, "how much do I owe you?"

"Oh, I leave that to you," was the reply. "You can better estimate the value of the service rendered."

"Suppose we postpone settlement then—say a year. By that time I shall know what to give you."

"No, no," said the clergyman, a married man himself, "make it $5.00 now."

Judge Carpenter and Commissioner Fream of the Public Utilities Commission were in Macleod Monday afternoon and met several delegations in connection with the work of the board.

The first case was that of the village of Frank, which appealed against the increase of water rates in the village. A few years ago the coal company, who owned the town site, went into liquidation, and the Trust and Guaranty Company handled the business. At that time the company had a set rate for supplying water to the villagers, but the company increased these rates, hence the appeal. The rates were changed from the original to $2.00 per month, the commission reduced these to a minimum of $1.00 in certain cases, with others to remain as they were, and to continue until September 1st, 1926, when the company may ask for an adjustment if they find that after one year the rate is too low, and this rate to begin on November 1, 1925.

Black Estate vs. the town of Macleod was a case regarding assessment. T. B. Martin appeared in this case and pointed out that as the property was now owned by the Dominion government it was exempt, or that the government should pay the taxes. J. W. McDonald, for the town, argued that all the town asked was the taxes, and that the property should pay the taxes and be legally assessed. Decision was reserved.

Hudson's Bay Company vs. Town of Macleod was a case charging that the assessment was too high. This was argued by J. D. Matheson, who said the assessment was more than the revenue, and that the property could not be sold for the assessed value. While the property had cost a large sum of money, the buildings today were not worth the amount assessed, and asked for a smaller assessment. J. W. McDonald, K.C., for the town, maintained that the values were on an equity with other properties in the town, and that the value in the buildings was there. Many were examined on both sides, and the commission upheld the assessment as made by the town.

Schnarr vs. Anderson vs. Provincial Government. This was a case where Anderson owned certain lands in the foothills, the taxes were unpaid, for a time, and the land was sold for taxes by auction. The land was purchased by some man in the east, and resold to Schnarr. One year was given the owner to redeem, the time went by, and Schnarr became owner. In the meantime, Anderson who owed on this land was being pressed by his creditors for payment. He appealed to the Utilities Board, asking for the redemption of his land, hence the case. J. L. Fawcett, appearing for Schnarr argued that as the government had given the title to the first purchaser, they had no jurisdiction in the matter, and asked to have the case dismissed. J. W. McDonald, K.C., for Anderson, brought forth argument that they were quite within their rights, and that his appeal was proper, and in keeping with the case, he was returned to Anderson. Decision reserved.

France will hereafter deduct from wages of foreign workers there a monthly tax of $12.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE — CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

JUST WHAT IS "THE TROUBLE WITH WIVES?" PARAMOUNT COMEDY OF MATRIMONY BY THAT NAME SOLVES PERPLEXING PROBLEM

Does every man have trouble with his wife? Or is this just an exaggerated matter? Let us find out by watching the life of a man and his wife as they go through the ups and downs of matrimony.

These are some of the questions dealt with in the Paramount picture, "The Trouble With Wives," which will be shown next Friday and Saturday at the Empress Theatre. The story is a series of gags by Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin. Malcolm St. Clair, who is the hero, is directed. Featured in the leading roles are Florence Vidor, Tom Moore, Esther Ralston and Ford Sterling.

Miss Vidor, as Grace Hyatt, is a perfectly loving and lovable wife and desires nothing more than to be alone with her husband, a wealthy store proprietor. But always there is someone popping in on them. When the picture opens this third party happens to be Ford Sterling, cast as Al Hennessey, an old college chum of Moore. He gets to talking about old times and almost ruins the Hyatt's happy home life right then and there by his husband's cut-up. The husband used to be. And all manner of signalling by Moore cannot shut him up. It's a great scene, all done in pantomime—by that we mean not a subtitle to describe the action—but you can tell every word the blundering Al is saying. It's a scream!

Spills the Beans

Miss Ralston is cast as Dagmar, a Parisian designer of shoes. After dinner, Al inadvertently drops a word about being at Dagmar's apartment and Grace's jealousy is once more aroused. She flares at her husband telling him that she supposes he was so interested in the Parisian designer that he forgot to call for his own wife's watch. Bill reassures her that the watch in his brief case and then, as thought, he remembers he has left his case at Dagmar's. He excuses himself, tells his wife he will run down to the office where he has left his case and be back in half an hour. Grace is left alone with Al.

In Dagmar's apartment, Al is busy over designs for new shoe models and Bill takes his case. There is nothing sentimental about their actions at all.

Separated

Bill returns home and he and Grace talk and argue till three in the morning. In despair at Grace's accusations and mistrust of his fidelity he declares that he will go to a hotel for the rest of the night.

The next day Bill telephones and asks for Grace for the purpose of trying to square things. Grace's mother answers the telephone and he tells her he is going to the Elite Hotel at the beach and that if Grace wants him she can find him there.

The mother-in-law merely tells her daughter Bill has gone to the beach hotel and the daughter believes he is there with another woman.

Later we find the unhappy Bill at the Elite Beach Hotel, disappointed and still in love with Grace. He wanders down the beach amid a carefree, happy group of vacationers, he spies Al under an umbrella with, he supposes, Grace. Al rises to meet him, bringing along his companion and we see that it is Dagmar! They are married—this beauty and this millionaire! Al excuses himself and leaves Bill to walk with Dagmar to the hotel.

Reconciliation

At home, Grace is being persuaded by her mother to obtain a divorce from Bill. Grace declares that she still loves Bill and that she knows he loves her—that she has unjustly suspected him of having an affair with Dagmar, whom she knows now was just a business associate. She decides to go to the Elite Hotel herself.

At the hotel she finds Bill and Dagmar together and is crushed until Al arrives and clears the whole situation by revealing Dagmar as his wife. We find Bill and Grace going up in the elevator to Bill's room—happily reunited—and about to have a dinner hour alone at last!

JAMES CRUZE'S "PONY EXPRESS" DUE AT EMPRESS—PICTURE, RAILED AS "THE COVERED WAGON'S" ONLY RIVAL OPENS MONDAY

pected western special, "The Pony Express," which James Cruze directed for Paramount, with a brilliant cast of several thousand players, headed by Betty Compson, Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Berry, will make its local debut at the Empress next Monday.

This mighty frontier cinemastep gives us the unique distinction of producing the only photoplay that seriously threatens the supremacy heretofore maintained by his first great epic, "The Covered Wagon." And there is much more to these two classics have in common.

Like its distinguished predecessor, "The Pony Express" is a powerful story combining historical fact with the element of romance that characterized the West of pioneer days. But, although its climax is as tremendous, and its ending as emotional and beautiful as that of "The Covered Wagon," its love theme is more appealing, its background more fascinating, and its dramatic episodes more colorful.

The action of the plot is laid in 1860, in the dark days just before the Civil War, and deals with the struggle between North and South to gain control of California with its prestige and enormous resources of gold. In this bitter political contest, the plotting and intrigue, gun-fighting and bloodshed, the track riders of the Pony Express played a significant and important part.

Besides the heroic achievements of the Pony Express, the production vividly and authentically depicts the violent yet picturesque life of the primitive West. Of the many historical characters who are portrayed, particularly of interest attaches to the youthful Mark Twain, the strapping, Buffalo Bill and the famous Mormon leader, Brigham Young.

Henry James Forman, former editor of Collier's Weekly, and Walter Woods, one of the most experienced scenarists in the film industry, collaborated on the story of "The Pony Express."

INDIAN BATTLE REAL THRILL IN "PONY EXPRESS"—JAMES CRUZE'S SUCCESSOR TO "THE COVERED WAGON" DUE HERE—MONDAY AND TUESDAY

The Sioux Indians took part in the greatest battle their tribe has fought for forty years during the filming of James Cruze's new western epic for Paramount, "The Pony Express."

Not since the last battle of the last Indian war in the United States—the "Ghost Dance War" in Wyoming in 1886, have the Sioux been engaged in a battle of such magnitude.

A band of more than one thousand Sioux Indians was brought to Cheyenne, Wyoming, from their reservation at Pine Ridge, North Dakota, for the purposes of this stupendous picture.

Decked out in fantastic war paint, wearing little else than loin cloths, and mounted bareback on spirited Indian ponies, they were given the order by Cruze to attack the town of Julesburg, Colorado.

In a minute they had swooped down on the town, circled it, firing arrows and old fashioned muskets, driving off the stock, and sustaining wounds from the barricaded townsmen, and that the property could not be sold for the assessed value. While the property had cost a large sum of money, the buildings today were not worth the amount assessed, and asked for a smaller assessment. J. W. McDonald, K.C., for the town, maintained that the values were on an equity with other properties in the town, and that the value in the buildings was there. Many were examined on both sides, and the commission upheld the assessment as made by the town.

Schnarr vs. Anderson vs. Provincial Government. This was a case where Anderson owned certain lands in the foothills, the taxes were unpaid, for a time, and the land was sold for taxes by auction. The land was purchased by some man in the east, and resold to Schnarr. One year was given the owner to redeem, the time went by, and Schnarr became owner. In the meantime, Anderson who owed on this land was being pressed by his creditors for payment. He appealed to the Utilities Board, asking for the redemption of his land, hence the case. J. L. Fawcett, appearing for Schnarr argued that as the government had given the title to the first purchaser, they had no jurisdiction in the matter, and asked to have the case dismissed. J. W. McDonald, K.C., for Anderson, brought forth argument that they were quite within their rights, and that his appeal was proper, and in keeping with the case, he was returned to Anderson. Decision reserved.

France will hereafter deduct from wages of foreign workers there a monthly tax of $12.

GIRLS GET FIVE YEARS

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—The three young women who caused the death of Matron Mrs. Margaret Mick, of the women's municipal jail farm some months ago when they escaped from that institution, this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter and were given five years each in Portsmouth penitentiary.

The girls' names are Bessie Carroll, Jennie McMinn and Isobel Prouse. They admitted that in fighting with the matron to gain their liberty they sat upon her while she lay on the floor.

Mick had been due to strangle the three girls, but they escaped. When the trial opened J. T. Mahon, defense counsel, after conference with the three girls and their parents, announced that with his lordship's permission they would plead guilty to manslaughter. This was agreed to by the crown.

Mr. Mahon is urging clemency and declared that there were no marks on Mrs. Mick's neck to show that she had been strangled, but he was not prepared to argue before a jury that the death of the matron was due to a stroke of apoplexy. He reviewed the domestic lives of the girls and the unfortunate circumstances which led to their being confined in the jail farm in the first place. He declared that Bessie Carroll was sent to the farm practically at her father's request.

Then in came the soldiers—1860 cavalry, recruited from companies of real soldiers at Fort D. A. Russell. More than seven hundred of them swooped down on the village, led by young Billy Cody, played by Johnny Fox, Jr., and the greatest Indian battle of this century took place. Foot by foot the Indians were driven out. The battle continued long after it was out of range of the camera. So realistic did the battle become on the outlying hills that Cruze had to send out special riders to call it off for the soldiers were still trying to round up red men, and red men were still running down and attacking isolated soldiers.

"The Pony Express," coming to the Empress on Monday and Tuesday next, features Betty Compson, Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Berry. The screen play is by Walter Woods, from an original story by himself and Henry James Forman.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TO SEE "THE PONY EXPRESS"

Samuel Shortridge, United States Senator from California, has announced his plan to have a copy of James Cruze's epic western, "The Pony Express," deposited in the historical department of the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C.

During the filming of this frontier spectacle, Senator Shortridge was a visitor on the big set at Sacramento, California, which was an exact replica of the city of Sacramento as it existed in 1860, and was so impressed with the manner in which Cruze was attempting to record an accurate picture of that period, that he asked to have a special print made from the finished negative.

The California Senator said he intended to take the film to the White House for a special showing before President Coolidge, prior to having it deposited in the Congressional Library.

"The Pony Express" is a vital, thrilling, colorful story, laid against the great panorama of the uncivilized west of sixty-five years ago. Henry James Forman and Walter Woods wrote it, and Betty Compson, Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Berry are the featured members in a cast numbering several thousand players.

ALBERTA LIQUOR CASE APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Two appeals involving western parties are shortly to come before the judicial committee of the privy council. The validity of two convictions under the Alberta Liquor Act and the Canada Temperance Act are questioned in one case, that of Nadan versus the King. The convictions were for carrying liquor brought into the province "otherwise than by common carrier by water or railway."

The appellants in the case used an automobile for transporting the liquor in question from Fernie, B.C., to Sweet Grass, Montana, and while doing so traversed a strip of Alberta territory.

The second appeal is in connection with an action for damages for personal injuries received in a railway accident by the plaintiff, Mrs. Picot, which action the defendant, the British Columbia Electric Railway, contends is barred by the statute of limitations, because it was not brought within six months of the date of the accident.

FACTORY MAKING SUGAR

At four o'clock Tuesday morning the Raymond sugar factory began slicing beets, according to advice from the Herald's Raymond correspondent. The big plant will run two shifts, employing in the neighborhood of 200 men. Beets are rolling into the factory sheds from all directions fully 25 per cent. of the crop being out of the ground.

Weather permitting it is expected that by Friday, the day of the formal opening of the refinery, the bulk of the beets will be above the surface and a substantial percentage delivered at the factory.

WHAT HAS THE FEDERAL MEM-BER DONE FOR MACLEOD

Before going to the polls on October 29th every voter in Macleod—town and district—should not neglect to consider what treatment we have received from the present Government and to what extent Macleod has benefited by having Mr. G. Coote as its member. This is every voter's duty and while we all have party leanings we should remember to put constituency first all the time and to elect a representative whose first aim must be to look after the interests of his constituency.

When the member does this, the people will trust him and back him up in his work but should he fail to look after the vital affairs of the riding he is not worthy to be nor is it in the best interests of the riding to have him elected again.

Putting aside all political affiliations, it is time we, here in Macleod and district, began to realize the importance of electing a candidate who is in a position to do something for our particular part of the country and, above all, see that we do not lose those things which have belonged to Macleod since the West was opened up. Can we look back on the record of our member, Mr. Coote, and truthfully say that Mr. Coote did his best for Macleod and can we expect anything better if he is elected again? This is the real issue of the campaign for Macleod. What has already happened to Macleod should be a warning. Any explanation or excuse Mr. Coote may make on the platform cannot atone for the damage done. Can we or Mr. Coote, himself, point to any improvements to his credit in this riding?

Mr. Coote, at Granum on October 8th, at a political meeting in answer to a question stated that he voted for the removal of the Mounted Police from Macleod, adding that the force would naturally go to Lethbridge as the Commandant was living there. Apparently, then, according to Mr. Coote, where the Commanding Officer lives the force has to go. How about the removal of the Blood Indian Agency buildings, the St. Paul's Mission and the Roman Catholic School and Hospital and the whole Indian business? Did Mr. Coote, at any time, draw to the attention of any public organization of this town what was happening on this or any vital question affecting Macleod? Why did he not enlist the support of influential citizens? Was it not his duty?

A candid answer to any or all of these questions will show the futility of supporting so-called progressive candidates.

We have a word to say about the Honourable Mr. Charles Stewart and his party as affecting Macleod. We know of protest upon protest being forwarded to him regarding the closing of the barracks and the removal of all the Blood Reserve buildings to Cardston and all the Government would say was that it was a matter of economy. Can this be true when, after the completion of the Indian buildings at Cardston the cost will be close to a quarter of a million dollars and there can be no question of economy regarding our fine barracks which are left vacant.

Also, there is a letter on file from Mr. Stewart stating that before the Blood Agency or any of the buildings would be removed the wishes of the Macleod people in this regard would be ascertained. Time and again Mr. Stewart stated in reply to representations made to him personally and by letters that Macleod would receive its share of Blood Indian orders. Has he kept his word or has the Liberal Government acted squarely with Macleod? Everything possible which can be harmful has happened and the treatment to the town of Macleod, the oldest post of the Indians and the Mounted Police in the West, is unfair and we have suffered more financially than any other town in Alberta owing to this.

These are plain facts and it is for the electors to judge whether the Liberal Government and Mr. Coote have not dealt the most serious blow to Macleod and district that they could have received.

Mr. John Heron, the Conservative candidate, has given his pledge to his executive and, if another meeting is held, Macleod will state this in public that if elected he will work for the filling of the barracks by some unit and use every ounce of energy towards this and the procuring of our just share of the Blood Reserve Indian business, which rightfully belongs to us.

For these reasons, Mr. John Heron should have the full support of the electors on October 29th. Farmers, labor and business men should unite in supporting Mr. Heron because he has only one purpose and that is to serve the constituency faithfully and well.

SCHOOLS AND FASHIONS

The streak of the conventional which keeps men from expressing their own ideas for fear of seeming peculiar is never responsible for any of the great creative accomplishments in the world's history.

Fashions in art, music, dress, and the like do not foster individual genius, but serve rather to depress and engulf it. J. G. Huneker went so far as to say that "There are no schools in art or literature, only good writers and artists. There are no types, only individuals." This is a cheering word from one who was well able to pass an opinion on the subject; and it may serve as a warning to those enthusiasts who are all too eager to follow the hue and cry in the fine arts.

The attractive thing about a fashion is that its features are plainly apparent to the one who would follow it, and he has to do little or no thinking on the subject himself. It is clear, therefore, that those who think from mental activity and creative thought will be found among the ones who most closely cling to the accepted "school" or fashion.

The individuals who have reached achievements in their chosen field have done so because of patient unremitting toil, together with the conviction that their message is peculiarly their own and hence worthy of beautiful expression.

WORTH CONSIDERING

A certain man went into a local store to buy an article and asked the price. It was $3.20 the dealer said. "Good gracious," said the man, "I can get the same thing from the mail order house for $2.77."

"That's less than it cost me," said the dealer; "but I'll sell it on the same terms as the mail order house just the same."

"All right," said the customer. "You can send it along and charge it to my account."

"Not on your life," replied the dealer. "No charge account. You can't do business with the mail order house that way. Fork over the cash."

The customer handed over the cash. "Now three cents for postage and five cents for money order."

The customer, inwardly raving kept his agreement and paid the eight cents. "Now 35 cents expressage." "Well, I'll be——" he said, but paid, saying: "Now hand me it and I'll take it home for myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand it to you? Where do you think you are? You're not in Winnipeg, and you'll have to wait a few days."

Whereupon he placed the article on the shelf and put the money in his cash drawer.

"That makes $3.26," he said. "It has cost you six cents more and taken you several days longer to get it than if you had paid my price in the first place."

FRUIT CULTIVATION ON THE PRAIRIES

The difficulties of growing fruit on the older cultivated prairie of the once wild-west prairie of the west are rapidly being overcome. The Superintendent of the Modern, Man, Dominion Experimental Station in his report for 1924 remarks that the interest shown in horticulture is increasing very rapidly and that there is a large demand for information thereupon, in fruit growing particularly. Many requests are received for scions and budsticks to work on native plums, sand cherries, pin cherries, and choke cherries, for seed for planting and especially for plums and hardy apples. The Station at Morden, Man., is largely devoted to horticulture.

Judging from the report 1923 was not altogether favourable for fruit growing, but we are told that the Siberian crab, and its hardy hybrids seem to offer the safest roots for apple and crab apple varieties; that all types of currants had a good year; that gooseberries generally do well; that there was much winter injury in the raspberry patch; that Senator Dunlap and Dakota varieties of strawberries wintered well and produced fair crops; that the Champion variety of ever-bearing strawberry produced generously over a long season, 5 1/2 quarts being picked on November 1; that the Wanita plum attained good size, and that Champs and Tom Thumb are two low-growing bushes of sand cherries of value in the back-yard garden.

Relative to vegetables the report states that in a normal season a great variety can be grown with success in that part of the prairies where the Morden, Man, Station is situated.

Few good cooks can write shorthand or use a typewriter.

ROD AND GUN FOR NOVEMBER

The Kennel Department of the November issue of Rod and Gun, the Canadian hunting magazine, contains a notable feature in an article on the Canadian field trials of bird dogs from the pen of A. F. Hochwalt, who may be said to be the greatest field trial authority on the American continent. The winter feature "Along the Trap Line," edited by M. U. Bates, commences its season in this month's issue and contains a full synopsis of the trapping laws for the season 1925-26 all through the Dominion.

The first of a series of splendid cartoons on the humorous side of outdoor life, by the famous James Fries of Birdseye Centre fame is also a good new feature.

The November issue might be called a hunters' number from the amount of hunting interest it contains. An Old Timer's Story of Hunting in the Rockies is a real old timer's yarn, written in a care free style that marks the man of the open and interests his fellows. In Breezes from the West, A. Bryan Williams, the well known B. C. sportsman, strikes the same note that is felt in all the stories and regular features of the magazine.

CRIMINAL SITTINGS SUPREME COURT AT MACLEOD

The criminal sittings of the Macleod Supreme Court was opened Monday in Macleod with Mr. Justice Ives presiding. There was only a small docket and two cases were dealt with. R. N. Cosgrove, of Coleman was charged with attempted abortion, his Lordship after hearing the evidence dismissed the case. The accused conducted his own case in this action, while J. D. Matheson, barrister of Macleod represented the Crown. The other case was one of assault, E. C. Peck, of Pincher Creek, charged with assaulting his wife, Rose Peck. Which case was also dismissed.

Quality

The most urgent requirement in Canada's Agricultural Products

CANADA produces every year large quantities of wheat, oats, barley, butter, cheese, bacon, beef, eggs, apples, potatoes, grass seed and clover seed that she cannot consume. Her natural outlet for these products is, of course, Great Britain—the one great consuming country of the world with an open market.

Unfortunately, nearly every other country with any surplus of food products seems to want to send its surplus to this same market.

The keenness of the competition on this, our only market, and the energy and resourcefulness of our competitors began to impress themselves upon the Department of Agriculture some time ago, but it is only within very recent years that the real and only way to grapple with this problem has been discovered, or at least put into effect. This Department now believes, as do also most of the farmers of this country, that the "grading" of our agricultural products is the policy and practice that is seeing us through the struggle and will assure us of our rightful place on the British market.

"Grading" means the classifying of products, whether they be hogs, butter, cheese, eggs or anything else, into what might be called in a general way "BEST," "GOOD," "FAIR" and "POOR" classes.

These exact words are not used in describing the grades, but that is what is meant. The purpose served in grading is threefold—

(1) Educational. When the producer sees the relative quality of his product he is spurred on to maintain that quality if it is the "best" or to improve the quality where necessary.

(2) Fair Play. When products are not graded the inferior article for various reasons often brings as much as the superior article, and the credit and advantage of putting the superior product on the market is lost to the one who really deserves it.

(3) Facilitating Trade. The dealer learns to have confidence in the article he is buying and buys more freely, because it is guaranteed by grading, and gradually everybody gets to know what the "best" article really looks like or tastes like. In short, grading brings about standardization and ensures to the producer the best price.

Canada now grades her cereals, grass seeds, hay, potatoes, apples, eggs, butter, cheese, wool and bacon hogs. The results have been in every case beneficial and in some cases quite markedly so, even though the grading system has been in effect in some cases for only two or three years, thus—

Cheese—Grading began April 1st, 1923. Canadian cheese 1 year before had fallen into such disfavor on the British market that New Zealand cheese was quite commonly preferred. Today Canadian cheese commands cents per pound higher than New Zealand.

Butter—Grading began same time for cheese. The reputation of our butter was then indeed at low ebb. Canadian butter today, while not the best on the market, is rapidly improving in quality and gaining in reputation.

Hogs—Over two years ago the Department of Agriculture began to grade live hogs at the packing houses and stock yards. The 10% premium paid by the packers for "select" bacon hogs as against "thick smooths" has caused by departmental graders has done wonders to improve the quality of our hogs and develop the bacon industry.

Best Canadian bacon, which ordinarily was quoted two years ago from 10 to 18 shillings a long hundredweight below Danish, has gradually grown in the estimation of the British wholesale buyer until it is now quoted at only from 1 or less to at most 3 or 6 shillings per long hundredweight below the best Danish.

This improvement in price is, of course, due to quality and has come about very gradually, the spread narrowing down by a shilling or two a month until now it is not at all a rare occurrence to see best Canadian selling on a par with the Danish article.

Eggs—Canada was the first country to grade and standardize eggs. These grades and standards apply not only to export, interprovincial and import shipments, but also to domestic trading.

The basis is interior quality, cleanliness and weight. Standardizing Canadian eggs has established confidence between producer and consumer and between exporter and British importer, and has resulted in a greatly-increased demand for the Canadian egg both at home and abroad.

Other products might be mentioned where grading has worked to the great advantage of the producer and to the advancement of Canadian agriculture.

Already Great Britain recognizes our store cattle, wheat, cheese, eggs, apples and oats as the best she can buy.

It is for us to so improve our other products, particularly our butter and bacon, as to bring them also into this list of "the best on the British market" and consequently the highest priced.

Grading enabled us to do this for cheese, wheat, eggs and apples.

Grading is helping us to do it for butter and bacon.

Quality Counts

Quality is the first objective for the Canadian export trade, and then steady, regular supply. It is along these lines the Department of Agriculture is working by educational methods and the result of this policy is seen in the growing volume of Canada's agricultural exports. BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

G. W. V. A. POPPY CAMPAIGN

The distribution of Veterans' Poppies as the "Flower of Remembrance" this year on Armistice Day will assume proportions far in excess of any year since the institution of the custom. Orders received by the G. W. V. A., which acts as distributing agent for Veterans' Poppies, are now in excess of the total distribution last year by several hundred thousand. Approximately a million poppies were worn by Canadians last Armistice Day. This year it is estimated that the total distribution will exceed a million and three quarters.

Several reasons may be ascribed for the increase in Veterans' Poppy distribution this year, but the basic and most significant reason may be found in the desire to fulfill the injunction which was simply expressed by Baron Byng of Vimy when he said "Remember the dead by helping the living." Veterans' Poppies are the living symbols of remembrance of the 62,000 sons of Canada who now rest peacefully, mostly in a foreign land, after exemplifying their patriotism by giving to their country their greatest gift, their lives. Col. McCrae in deathless verse wrote:

"In Flanders fields the Poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row."

And thus it is pictured in the memory of every returned soldier—the countless wooden crosses marking the last resting-place of their comrades, with millions of the little bright red flowers hiding the hideous earth scars, and denying that death ends all.

No other emblem could portray the sacred sentiment of Canadians towards their war dead in the same manner as Veterans' replicas of the Flanders poppy.

Veterans' Poppies bear a double significance to the wearer. Besides serving as the "Flower of Remembrance" every poppy replica is the handiwork of a veteran whose war disability precludes him from engaging in normal activities. The men employed in Veterans' and Red Cross workshops have faced the choice of idleness as compared with using the impaired faculties which are a legacy to them from war disabilities.

Cleans Like China
When you use SMP Enamelled Ware Utensils, you never need to scrape, scour and scrub the way some wares demand. Hot water, soap, a cloth—that's all you need to clean them. It washes like china, has the cleanliness and surface of china, but wears like steel. Don't be the slave of your cooking ware! Equip with clean, pure sanitary, lasting
SMP

Some of these men cannot work more than one or two hours a day, but they prefer to work that length of time rather than be entirely dependent upon the nation. They can look the world in the face and say, "I am disabled, but I do what I can."

At their inception the Veterans' and Red Cross workshops undertook wood and basket work, but even with the variety of tasks in which a disabled man might engage in these lines there were still many men anxious to work, but could not be placed. The manufacture of poppy replicas solved this problem for a considerable number. They eagerly availed themselves of the opportunity, and now they may be seen at work in Victoria, Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, St. John and Halifax.

A visit to one of these centres is to receive a lesson in patience and application. To the average person of normal health the constant repetition of the same operation would seem almost too monotonous to be bearable. Picture, then, a man with the lower part of his body almost useless, his only means of locomotion a pair of crutches, and whose prospect for the future is the sure knowledge that his increasing disability will bring premature termination to his earthly existence.

He may be seen carefully attaching poppy replicas to stems, pasting and binding each one as though his sole interest was concentrated in a single flower. True, his hands are slow and his total output is considerably less than the average of other men working about him, but the principal thing to be remembered is that this work gives him an opportunity for a brief period to forget his disability and to feel that he is doing something towards earning his livelihood.

When one considers that every additional poppy distributed on Armistice Day means the extension of this opportunity to work for handicapped veterans, then the second great and significant value of the Veterans' poppy can be appreciated.

There is a third objective in the distribution of Veterans' Poppies which parallels in significance each of the other two: Veterans' Poppies provide the means of accumulating funds for the relief of the distressed and the dependents, and for the promotion of objects benefiting ex-service men generally. A general survey of any community will reveal the urgent need of such a fund to deal with emergencies which are not now provided for in municipal or other welfare work.

A WHOLESOME BAKED DINNER
Most housewives do not realize oven dishes require really less attention than those prepared on top of the stove. But those who are fortunate enough to have self-basting enameled ware roasters, know from experience that this is a fact. The old-fashioned way of basting the meat every ten minutes or so did keep one almost constantly on the job if the meat was to be well-flavored and browned.

The enameled ware roaster, which not only roasts but bastes as well, has eliminated all the attention and thought that the old method involved.

Roasts are said to be much better for one than fried foods and an additional advantage is that potatoes and vegetables can be roasted with the meat, which saves considerable time. White and Bermuda onions are on the market now and for a change from the usual boiled and creamed style of preparing them, try roasting them with the beef and potatoes. Select a six-pound roast, wipe with a damp cloth, sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour and cook in a very hot oven for twenty minutes. Then place around the meat six or eight large peeled potatoes and the same number of medium sized onions. Season the potatoes and onions, cover and cook at the same temperature for forty-five minutes.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS

Arthur Young was a Hill Spring visitor on Wednesday last.

J. Cosgrove, of Coleman, was a visitor to Macleod this week.

Neil Nicholson, returning officer for the Macleod riding, was a visitor to northern towns this week.

Dr. Tolmie, of Coleman was in Macleod this week attending the sittings of the Supreme Court.

The Conservative Committee rooms have been opened and are situated opposite the Royal Bank, at the corner of 2nd Avenue and 23rd Street.

The half-holiday which has been proclaimed for election day and which will be from noon for the balance of the day, is not obligatory. The public may observe it or not, but it is customary to carry out any proclamation of the sort. A statute empowers the government to proclaim any occasion a public holiday, and it has been done in this case. Bills of exchange are not affected in coming due because the day will be only a half-holiday. General observance is expected and it is likely to increase the number of voters.

Chief of Police Houghton, of Coleman, was a visitor to Macleod this week.

Ed. Peck, well known farmer of Pincher Creek, was a visitor in Macleod this week.

Archie Mitchell, of the Dominion Forestry Association, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bright for the past week. Mr. Mitchell is a brother-in-law of Mr. Bright, his wife being Mrs. Bright's sister.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Tuesday evening, the president presiding. The Board of Trade was invited to attend the national meeting of Boards for the Dominion in Winnipeg on November 11 and 12. It is possible that the president of the Macleod Board, Dr. Fanset, who is also president of the Red Trail Association, will attend this very important gathering, and so give the Red Trail another big boost. The various trails were discussed at some length, and reports will be prepared for the coming session of the Legislature.

W. Lincham spent a few days this week with his family at Okotoks.

"Teddy" Wagstaffe, of Waterton Lakes, is visiting friends in Macleod this week.

The lists of voters in the Macleod district have all been prepared and are now in the hands of the officials.

F. Sick, of the Lethbridge Brewery Company, was a visitor to Macleod on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Dan Lucy, representative of the Silver Spray Breweries, was a business visitor to Macleod this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartley, of Cranbrook, were the guests of Miss McHattie during the past week. Mr. Hartley was at Calgary on Tuesday on business.

F. Cutler of the local theatre was out shooting on Wednesday and secured a real nice bag of chicken and partridge. J. Grier, F. Tatham, C. P. McGladdery and Geoff Pollard motored to the hills on Wednesday and brought home about thirty birds.

At the hospital Tuesday evening, John Mason died at the age of seventy-five years. He had been in the hospital since May last. Deceased came from England thirty years ago. The funeral was held from the Church of England on Thursday (today).

Terence Mathews, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mathews, was killed in an aeroplane crash at Camp Borden, Ontario on Thursday morning (today). No details of the fatality are available. The remains are being taken to Colborne, Ont., where interment will take place next Monday.

Archdeacon Dewdney, of Calgary, occupied the pulpit at both morning and evening services at Christ Church last Sunday, the occasion being that of the annual harvest festival. The church was beautifully decorated by the lady members of the congregation. Both services were largely attended.

Mrs. M. Hasty, mother of Mrs. Clement, while crossing the intersection at 17th Street and 3rd Avenue on Tuesday night of last week was knocked down by a team of horses and democrat. The injured lady was immediately taken to her home and medical aid rendered. Mrs. Hasty suffered from a badly dislocated shoulder and was severely bruised. She is progressing as well as can be expected.

An advance poll will be held in Macleod on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week, from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the office of A. F. Grady on 24th Street. The provisions covering this class of voter are as follows: 1. That his employment or calling is such as to necessitate his absence from his ordinary place of residence from time to time. 2. That he has reason to believe that because of necessary absence he will be unable to vote at the ordinary polls on polling day. 3. That, in advance of presenting himself at the advance poll station, he has obtained from the revising officer who has revised or prepared the list of voters for the polling division in which he resides, a certificate that he comes within the foregoing conditions, and is accordingly entitled to vote at an advance polling station. It will be noticed that a certificate is necessary from the revising officer, and must be presented to the officer at the advance poll before the person is entitled to vote.

NEW PROVINCIAL LEADER OF C.G.I.T. AT MACLEOD

Miss Hetherington, the new C.G.I.T. leader for the province of Alberta, spent Sunday in Macleod arriving early on Saturday. During the day she made a survey of the district and got in touch with the leaders of the girls in town. In the evening she had a heart to heart talk with the girls and every one of the groups are in love with the new leader. It was just one girl talking with another and talking on the plain everyday things that go to make up a girl's life.

Later the girls and their mothers spent a social hour around the tea table and with music and song passed a very pleasant evening.

Sunday morning Miss Hetherington spoke to the girls in the United church when a large number of mothers were present. The girls did the singing for the service. Again in the Sunday school she told the wee ones and big ones a few things about themselves. At 3:45 she met the girls and their mothers, when a very fine talk was given. She told of the girl age, and what they could accomplish if they tried. This, the girls say, was a real treat. Miss Hetherington took the service in the evening and with a crowded house, told of the message to girls the world over, and how every nation was now taking the G.I.T. work up and helping their girls to carry it out. She appealed to the girls to make Alberta the greatest part of Canada, by doing their share of the work in building a greater nation.

HOT DOGICA

A story is told of a young lady who went to boarding school. On the farm she was always known as "Jessie," but about the third letter she wrote home was signed "Jessica." Brother Tom replied to her letter:

"Dear Jessica: Dadica and Momica have gone to visit Aunt Lizzica. Uncle Samica is talking of buying a new machinica, but doesn't know whether to buy a Fordica or Chevica. The old cowica had a calfica. I was going to call it Nellica, but I have changed it to Jimica because it was a bullica. Your loving brother—Tomica."

HE ROSE TO FAME

An Irishman who had risen from navy to Provost one day said to his wife:

"Bridget, when I came to this country, first as a navy I was just plain Paddy Hooley; when I became head of my squad, I was Mr. Hooley; when I became manager of the firm, I was Patrick Hooley, Esquire; when I became Town Councillor, I was Councillor Hooley; and now I am Provost, they call me Provost Hooley. And, would you believe it, Bridget, when I was at church this morning, they were singing 'Hooley, Hooley, Hooley, Lord God Almighty!'"
